

Hello,
Two point I would like to make.

Mental Health Nursing should stay on the board as a specialty area as do Midwives.
Our current register of Division 3 Psychiatric Nurses needs to maintain due recognition.

As with those of us who have already been slyly moved into Division1 with Psychiatric qualifications.

Moving our specialists nurses to a “limited” mode in unacceptable.

I wonder why aren't Social Workers included in this registering body?
Mental Health now has larger numbers of Social workers working as mental health clinicians and we need them to be accountable and responsible. I believe organisations should not employ these social workers in an ever decreasing workforce if they are not with a recognised registration board. Let's make them responsible also along with other mental health workers, psychiatric nurses and allied health professionals.

Cheers
Adele

Adele Morrison | Senior Psychiatric Nurse

Mental Health | Mildura Base Hospital
Ontario Avenue, Mildura VIC 3500
t: 03 5022 3512 | f: 03 5022 3501 | m: 0438 505 265
e: MorrisonA@ramsayhealth.com.au | w: www.ramsayhealth.com.au